DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- I. Claims 1-9, 15-23, 25-31, 33 and 73-80, drawn to a device comprising an active control system.
- II. Claims 34, 35, 41-44, 46-50, 53, 81 and 82, drawn to a device comprising a sensor.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The species are independent or distinct because they are directed to related apparatuses. The related species are distinct if the (1) the species as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the species do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the species as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the device comprising an active control system is different than the device comprising a sensor because a control system entails a plurality of individual components, one of which may or may not be a sensor. Accordingly, the species of Group I does not necessarily require the use of the specific sensors set forth by Group II, and the species of Group II does not require the use of the additional components (controller, actuator, etc) that are essential to Group I.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
